- If determined that request is within scope, call will be routed to Adventus First Level IT Engineer to commence First Level Support;
- First Level Support is provided through remote access using remote access tools/applications/software only. The End-User will need to comply with the instructions given by Adventus First Level IT Engineer and to download and install the necessary remote access tools to enable Adventus to access via Remote Access. If this cannot be done, First Level Support cannot be provided by Adventus;
- If incident remains unresolved and is determined by Adventus First Level IT Engineer as within scope of Second Level On-Site IT Support Services, Adventus Second Level IT Engineer will be notified to respond onsite within the Response Time stipulated in the Order Form.

Support Process for Second Level Support:

As this is outside the scope of Support Services provided by Adventus, the manufacturer may charge fees for the repairs if not covered by any existing warranty and in such a case, the End-User (or owner of the Equipment) is the only party liable for payment of the repair costs to the manufacturer(s);
- The End User must provide all necessary facilities and infrastructure to enable Adventus to perform the Second Level Support Services. The End User must also provide all necessary cooperation and information (e.g. passwords, access, codes etc.) to enable the Adventus Second Level IT Engineer to access the End User's network and systems to render the Second Level Support;
- The End User is solely responsible for all issues relating to network security, office systems security and back-up processes. Adventus will not in any case be liable for any breach of security, confidentiality or loss of information and data as a result of performing Second Level Support;
- Customized and third-party software issues are not within the scope of Second Level Support. The End User acknowledges that Adventus may not have the necessary access, source codes or permission to perform bug fixes, modifications or alterations to such software;
- The End User acknowledges that Adventus will use its best endeavours to provide the Support Services but Adventus does not warrant that every issue encountered can be resolved in time or at all. If any issues remain unresolved by Adventus after going through the support process or it is determined by Adventus that the problem cannot be resolved by the Support Services, Adventus' only obligation is to escalate the identified problem to the manufacturers of equipment and original software owners.
